Caring . . .

Compassion . . .

Family . . .

That's what Mercy Center is all about. We care about our residents not only as individuals but as members of our Mercy Family. At Mercy Center you'll find a dedicated, team-oriented staff. All of our employees take great pride in their work, ensuring that our residents receive individualized care and attention.

We invite you to come and see who and what we are and determine for yourself how your loved one would become part of our family. We know you will get a real sense of how being a member of the Mercy Family will impact not only your loved one's life, but also your life.

Sara Sweeney, RSM

Administrator, Mercy Center

Care is characterized by compassion, tenderness, and excellence and, at Mercy Center, is provided in an atmosphere that reflects Mercy caring and gospel values, treating each person with dignity, and respect for the sacredness of life.

The tradition of the Sisters of Mercy is to anticipate, identify and respond to the needs of the communities in which they minister.

This life long commitment to those needs is reflected in the ministries of education, health care and social work.

In this same tradition, the Sisters of Mercy are responding to the growing needs of the elderly:

- ▶ The need to remain independent
- ▶ The need to live in a safe and secure environment
- ▶ The need to be treated with dignity and respect
- ▶ The need for more specialized care as the aging process requires

In response to those needs, the Sisters of Mercy have developed a program of care for the elderly – a plan that offers quality care and services at all levels while maintaining the dignity of each person.

A member of:
The Pennsylvania Association of Non-Profit Home for Aging and the American Association of Homes & Services for the Aging.

Admissions, the provision of services, and referral of clients shall be without regard to race, color, religious creed, disability, ancestry, national origin, age, or sex.

The Sisters of Mercy, Mid-Atlantic Community, are part of one of the largest communities of religious women in the world. The Sisters serve through education, health care, housing/shelters and spirituality programs.

Mercy Center and The Pines at Mercy Center are located in Dallas, Pennsylvania adjacent to Misericordia University.

Independent Living

Many well elderly have reached a stage in their lives where they are still active and wish to remain independent. With children grown, a large house may no longer suit their needs or life style. They are looking for housing that is safe, affordable and relatively maintenance free.

The Pines at Mercy Center offers:

- ▶ Interior/Exterior Maintenance
- ▶ Campus Security
- ▶ Access to Mercy Center for meals as well as all other services available
- ▶ Access to Misericordia University for cultural, social, academic and religious activities

Should the need ever arise, residents of The Pines may have access to our Mercy Center Personal Care and Skilled Care units.

Mercy Center has long been a home for our retired and infirm Sisters. As the Sisters' needs have changed and the needs of the elderly in the area have grown, the Sisters of Mercy have opened their doors to others.

Our facilities use a multi-disciplinary team approach to health care, including: nursing, social services, speech therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, nutritional therapy, activities and pastoral care. All of these disciplines work together to ensure the best possible care for our residents.

Personal Care

Mercy Center Personal Care Unit is a fully licensed care facility with 81 private rooms.

It is designed for those not well enough to live on their own, short-term stays and respite care. Our number one priority is care, given with respect and compassion for our residents. Staffing includes RN's, LPN's and PC aides.

Skilled Nursing

Mercy Center's Skilled Nursing Unit completes the program of care offered by the Sisters of Mercy.

Licensed in 1991, this 59-bed skilled nursing unit provides compassionate loving care to the most frail of our population.
